CALL NUMBER: MSS 142

CREATOR: Berliner (Record company), publisher

TITLE: Berliner Gramophone Disc Collection

DATES: 1892-1912

PHYSICAL DESCRIPTION: 17 linear feet (732 Berliner Gramophone Discs. All discs are 7 inch in diameter except where noted.)

LANGUAGE: English

SUMMARY: The earliest commercial sound recordings used Thomas Edison's phonograph technology - wax cylinders. In the late 19th Century, Emil Berliner (1851-1929) developed the gramophone, which employed flat discs instead of cylinders. Cylinders and discs co-existed for a few years, but eventually Berliner's discs won out and became the dominant technology. The discs in this collection represent some of the earliest published disc recordings, and offer a unique insight into the earliest years of music and spoken word recording.
