Administrative Information

Immediate Source of Acquisition

Most of these financial materials were part of a collection acquired by Yale in 1922 from William H. Brown of West Haven, Conn. The collection, initially called the William H. Brown Statistical Library, numbered some 23,000 documents and covered the years 1890 to 1917. The collection was merged with similar materials already in the University Library and later expanded by gifts from Brown and others to become what is now known as the William H. Brown Collection.

Scope and Contents

This collection, compiled by William H. Brown, contains a variety of financial documents concerning utility companies operating in the North American West. Examples of these documents include company correspondence, company descriptions, newspaper clippings, press releases, prospectuses, reports, maps, stock and bond offerings, plans for exchange of securities, notices and letters to the stockholders, dividend notices, deposit agreements, certificates of deposit, trust and mortgage indentures, trust agreements, agreements of assignment and pledge, bankruptcy notices to creditors, plans of reorganization and court documents. While all of these documents are represented in the collection, they are not all represented by each company.
