Processing Information

Collections are processed to a variety of levels, depending on the work necessary to make them usable, their perceived research value, the availability of staff, competing priorities, and whether or not further accruals are expected. The library attempts to provide a basic level of preservation and access for all collections, and does more extensive processing of higher priority collections as time and resources permit.

Information included in the Description of Papers note and Collection Contents section is drawn from information supplied with the collection and from an initial survey of the contents. Most folder titles appearing in the contents list below were transcribed from the recto or verso of the artwork. Otherwise, folder titles were supplied by staff during processing.

This finding aid may be updated periodically to account for new acquisitions to the collection and/or revisions in arrangement and description.

Henry Walke (1808-1896)

Rear Admiral Henry Walke was an American naval officer and artist born in Princess Anne County, Virginia, to Anthony Walke, a Yale College graduate and former American diplomat, and Susan Carmichael Walke. During the Mexican-American War, he was executive officer of the bomb-brig Vesuvius, which supported U.S. Army blockades of the Gulf ports of Veracruz, Alvarado, Tuxpan, and Villahermosa. In 1847 and 1848, Sarny & Major of New York City published his Naval Portfolio: Naval Scenes in the Mexican War by H. Walke, lieut., U.S. Navy. In the early part of the Civil War, Walke commanded the USS Tyler and USS Carondelet in the Western Theater, supporting Union forces during the Battle of Belmont and operations against Fort Henry, Fort Donelson, and Island Number 10. Walke also commanded the USS Lafayette, assigned to the Union Army's Mississippi River Squadron during the Battle of Vicksburg and the Red River Campaign. After serving more than 40 years in the Navy, Walke retired from active duty in 1873 and moved to Brooklyn, New York, where he worked as a writer and artist until his death. His watercolor and oil paintings were primarily based on his sketches of landscapes and maritime scenes, including Civil War engagements at Belmont, Fort Henry, and Grand Gulf. He authored and illustrated Naval Scenes and Reminiscences of the Civil War (1877).

Scope and Contents

The collection consists of watercolors, lithographs, oil paintings, and drawings by American naval officer Henry Walke, depicting scenes from the American Civil War and Mexican-American War, as well as expeditions with the United States Navy to Europe, South America, the Middle East, and Africa. Included are paintings of Union ships commanded by Walke, such as the USS Carondelet, and Civil War battles of Belmont, Fort Donelson, Fort Henry, Island Number Ten, and Grand Gulf. The collection also contains paintings and drawings of maritime scenes, landscapes, ancient ruins, monuments, buildings, and religious sites in Angola, Australia, Brazil, Equatorial Guinea, Ireland, Israel, Italy, South Africa, and Syria. Additionally included are a few photographs, broadsides, and printed material by or related to Walke.
