Annie Burr Lewis (1902-1959)

Annie Burr Auchincloss Lewis was born in Newport, Rhode Island, on July 22, 1902, the daughter of Emma Jennings Auchincloss and Hugh Dudley Auchincloss. She attended Miss Porter's School in Farmington, Connecticut, and married Wilmarth Sheldon Lewis in New York in 1928. She died in Hartford, Connecticut, on May 9, 1959.

Scope and Contents

The collection contains correspondence, personal and family papers, and financial records that document the life, interests, and work of the American philanthropist Annie Burr Lewis (1902-1959). The correspondence is with her mother Emma Brewster Jennings Auchincloss (1861-1942), her aunt Annie Burr Jennings (1855-1939), and nieces, nephews, and cousins in the Auchincloss and Jennings family, as well as her friends from childhood, school, and adult life. Personal papers include her appointment books, awards, recipe books, school notebooks, scrapbooks and postcard albums, and family papers consist of genealogical materials documenting branches of the Auchincloss and Jennings families. Her financial records cover both her personal banking and investments. The last series holds records from Annie Lewis's service with the American Red Cross as assistant director for Volunteer Special Services (1941-1944) and Volunteer Field Representative for Camp and Hospital Service (1944-1946) in Connecticut.

Family papers also include materials related to the lives and estates of Emma Jennings Auchincloss and Annie Burr Jennings, plus a group of letters to Jennings from William Howard Taft, and inscribed portrait photographs of Taft and Benito Mussolini.

Arrangement

Organized into five series: I. Correspondence, 1900-1959 II. Personal Papers, 1902-1958. III. Family Papers, 1849-1955. IV. Financial Records, 1926--1959. V. American Red Cross Records, 1941-1946.

Collection Contents

Series I: Correspondence, 1900–1960

10.56 linear feet (15 boxes)

The series contains correspondence that had been kept separate from the enormous quantity of correspondence received by Wilmarth and Annie Lewis that now forms Series I in the Wilmarth Sheldon Lewis Papers (LWL MSS 20). Most of the letters here were addressed solely to Annie Lewis by members of the Auchincloss and Jennings family, her personal friends, and staff at organizations with which she was involved as a volunteer or donor. It is unclear who made the separation of these materials, but in their isolation they do set facets of Annie Lewis's life apart from the panorama of the Lewises' social and academic connections and activities.

The Family Correspondence subseries holds letters from Annie Lewis's Auchincloss and Jennings siblings, aunt, cousins, and their children, and correspondence with her mother Emma Brewster Auchincloss (1861-1942) and favorite aunt Annie Burr Jennings (1855-1939). Though she was very generous to, and interested in, all of her nieces, nephews, and their children, Annie Lewis developed closer relationships with Edmund, Emma Anita, and John Nash, the children of her sister Esther (1895-1986) and her first husband Edmund W. Nash (1896-1947). The three children spent their childhood in the New York area prior to moving to Reno, Nevada, in 1929 for Esther Nash's divorce, and remaining in the West after Esther married Norman Biltz (1902-1973) in 1930. Also filed here are six folders of letters sent between Annie Lewis and her husband Wilmarth, most written while he was away on travels or she was in Virginia attending business meetings at Mount Vernon. There is one letter present from Wilmarth Lewis's brother George describing the camera equipment he had sent her; all other communications with the Lewis family are filed in Series I of Wilmarth Lewis's papers (LWL MSS 20).

The second subseries, Friends and Colleagues, holds letters from former Farmington schoolmates and a group of suitors Annie Lewis had attracted in the early and mid-1920s. Among the latter were the explorer Varick Frissell (Yale 1926) who wrote from the snowy Grenfell Mission in Labrador, and Walter Rumsey Marvin (Yale 1922), who signed his ardent poetic tributes "Rummy" and wisely chose a career path away from creative writing. Her schoolmates included the thrice-married adventurer Anna Hope Dale Biddle Burgess Glidden (1902-1984), known as "Nannie," whose more than fifty letters to Annie Lewis narrate the second half of her peripatetic life. She left her husband and children in suburban Philadelphia for the charismatic naval designer W. Starling Burgess, and when that marriage foundered, she was left scrambling to support herself through a series of jobs that included day labor on a farm, "slinging six lb pans" of frozen food in a New Jersey factory, selling skin care products on commission for Beauty Counselors Inc., and organizing a wool weavers cooperative in rural Maine. The letters in Series I show that Nannie, though resourceful, was just one of several friends—and family members—to whom Annie Lewis regularly provided seemingly unflagging moral, material, and financial support. As Nannie wrote to Wilmarth Lewis in 1976, "despite how different we were she always seemed to understand, which was more than most did." Letters from Starling Burgess explain the engineering projects for which he too sought backing, as do those from Olivia Heminway Kammerer whose school in Florence exposed young American women to Italian art and culture. Annie Lewis also supported many tradesmen, and filed here are correspondence and photographs from the paintings conservator Morton Bradley and furniture makers/restorers of the Nathan Margolis Shop, both concerning art and antiques she owned.

The third subseries, Services and Affiliations, holds correspondence with organizations and institutions with which Annie Lewis worked over her lifetime. Prominent among these is the First Church of Christ, Congregational, in Farmington, and the files contain documentation of the several committees on which she served. Perhaps her most significant contribution was to the Restoration Committee which undertook a six-year project to raise and return the pulpit and sounding-board to their original location on the east wall; its success is marked by a plaque on the church wall acknowledging her effort. Annie Lewis's devotion to the Mount Vernon Ladies' Association of the Union was inspired by that of her aunt Annie Burr Jennings, who served as the third Vice Regent for Connecticut from 1915 to her death in 1939. Yale University was the focus of Annie Lewis's greatest philanthropic efforts through her establishment of Special Fund "L," the Annie Burr Lewis Fund, and the Lewis-Farmington Trust. Because the funds continued and were monitored long after her death by her husband, the existing records are in the Wilmarth Sheldon Lewis Papers (LWL MSS 20), Series VII, Boxes 324-325. However, filed here is documentation of Annie Lewis's work with the university's Medical Affairs Committee, School of Nursing, and Yale University Art Gallery, as well as the records of her extensive involvement with the Faculty Committee for Receiving Oxford and Cambridge University Children during World War II. Included there is a painted bowl that was a gift from one of the young refugees whose family Annie Lewis sponsored during their stay in Farmington.

Readers seeking to explore Annie Burr Lewis's network of friends and colleagues must also check the extensive correspondence files in Series I of the Wilmarth Sheldon Lewis Papers (LWL MSS 20), as no attempt was made to remove from that collection letters addressed only to her.

Series I is organized into three subseries: Family, Friends and Colleagues, and Service and Affiliations.

Family

b. 1, f. 1-6	Auchincloss, Emma Brewster Jennings Emma Jennings Auchincloss (1861-1942), the mother of Annie Burr Lewis, married Hugh Dudley Auchincloss (1858-1913) in 1891. Papers related to her life, interests, and estate are filed in Series III. Family Papers.	1915, 1933-1942
b. 1, f. 7	Auchincloss, Hugh Dudley Hugh Dudley Auchincloss Jr. (1897-1976) was the brother of Annie Lewis, and like her, a summer resident at Hammersmith Farm in Newport, Rhode Island. Auchincloss was also a financial investments manager for the Lewises, so additional correspondence with him can be found in Series IV, Financial Records.	1920-1958
b. 1, f. 8	Auchincloss, Hugh ("Yusha") D. Jr. and Alice Hugh Dudley ("Yusha") Auchincloss III (1927-2015) was the son of Annie Lewis's brother Hugh D. Auchincloss (1897-1976) and his first wife Maria Nikolayevna Chrapovitsky (1899-1990).	1949-1959
b. 1, f. 9	Auchincloss, general	1952-1954, undated
b. 60, f. 1	Auchincloss family birthday card for Annie Lewis, drawn by Jacqueline Bouvier The celebrants saluting "Aunt Abie" in this birthday greeting are the children of Hugh and Janet Auchincloss, and were identified in a pencil inscription by Wilmarth Lewis; his notations on the verso assign authorship and a date of July 22, 1946. A sketch on the verso shows the couple's standard poodles presenting a birthday cake to Wilmarth and Annie Burr Lewis, aunt and uncle of the artist, whose enthusiasm for Walpole is humorously alluded to with a sign at the foot of the bed that reads "Horace Walpole Slept Here." The card is framed. Former call number: LWL Ptg. 182.	1946 July 22
b. 1, f. 10	Biltz, Esther Auchincloss and Norman Also contains letters from other members of the Biltz family.	1943-1959
b. 1, f. 11	Coe, Eunice ("Dunie") Jennings Contains clippings concerning Sarah Porter, the founder of Miss Porter's School, and her school's centenary celebration.	1900, 1913, 1959

b. 2, f. 3	Dodge family The folder primarily holds letters and drawings from the children of Anita and Arthur Dodge; also present is a photostat of a draft letter written in 1955 from Annie Lewis to Annie Burr Auchincloss Dodge on the topic of their namesake Annie Burr Jennings.	1954-1959
b. 2, f. 4-5	Harkins, Emma Anita ("Buddy") Nash Dodge Emma Anita Nash (1922-2011), known to the family as "Buddy," was the eldest daughter of Annie Lewis's sister Esther Auchincloss and a favorite niece. The folder also holds correspondence with psychiatrist Dr. John A. P. Millet regarding his work with Anita Dodge between the dissolution of her marriage to Arthur Dodge and her wedding to the author Philip Harkins (1914-1997).	1952-1958
b. 2, f. 6	James, Oliver	1945
b. 2, f. 7	Jennings, Annie Burr Annie Burr Jennings (1855-1939) was the aunt of Annie Lewis. Papers related to her life, interests, and estate are filed in Series III. Family Papers. In addition, many of the postcards found in the albums in Series II, Personal Papers, were sent by Annie Jennings during her European travels. Includes a letter from Luke Lockwood to Annie Lewis.	1931-1939
b. 2, f. 8	Jennings, Oliver Burr	1926-1951
b. 2, f. 9	Lewis, George W.	1946 April 15
b. 2, f. 10-15	Lewis, Wilmarth Sheldon Includes one letter from the Lewises' friend Moreau Delano, dated December 11, 1927.	1926-1958, undated
b. 3, f. 1	Nash, Edmund Burr	1953-1956, undated
b. 3, f. 2-5	Nash, Edmund ("Ted") W., Jr., and Ruth Coffin Edmund W. Nash Jr. (1918-2004), the first-born of Annie Lewis's several nephews and nieces, was son of her sister Esther Auchincloss Nash. He married Ruth Prentice Coffin (1921-2007) in 1941; an artist, she was the daughter of Dorothy Prentice and Henry Sloan Coffin, president of Union Theological Seminary in New York. Nash served in North Africa and Italy with the United States Army during World War II. Though they lived in California, the Nashes remained close to the Lewises and would often spend time at "The Castle" in Newport.	1941-1959
b. 52 (Oversize), f. 1-9	Nash, Ruth Coffin: "The Tree Game" Leaf specimens collected in Newport and arranged by Ruth Coffin Nash. Also present is an undated hand-lettered label for "The Nash Beach-Glass Collection," likely from a display left behind after the family had visited.	1952 October 12

Scrapbooks and Albums

The subseries contains four commercial albums and two scrapbooks. The albums hold unsent postcards collected by Annie Lewis on her travels and those she received from family and friends. Because they are fastened to the pages in her arrangement, the cards were unable to be analyzed for content, but it appears that many were sent to Annie by her aunt Annie Burr Jennings (1855-1939). The span dates of albums were determined by postal frankings or datelines that could be easily seen without damaging the cards or pages.

b. 16	Album Postcards from friends and family, primarily holiday cards.	1907-1910

b. 17	Album Postcards primarily collected on trips to France and Italy.	1907-1910

Series III: Family Papers, 1849–1960*6.76 linear feet (8 boxes)*

The series consists of three groups of material: genealogical records of the Auchincloss, Burr, Jennings, and Nash families; papers of Emma Brewster Jennings Auchincloss; and papers of Annie Burr Jennings. The latter two groups contain some correspondence, ephemera, and Emma Auchincloss's photograph album from her time at Miss Porter's School. Also present are estate records for the Jennings sisters that include detailed inventories of their three homes in Connecticut and New York City; the inventories provide an important window on the material culture environment in which Annie Lewis was raised, as well as a record of the furnishings and decorative objects she brought into her own two homes after their deaths.

Series III is organized into three subseries: Genealogical Materials, Emma Brewster Jennings Auchincloss Papers, and Annie Burr Jennings Papers.

Genealogical Materials

Emma Brewster Jennings Auchincloss Papers

Emma Brewster Jennings Auchincloss (1861-1942), a philanthropist, was the mother of Annie Lewis. The second of the five children of Oliver Burr Jennings and Esther Judson Goodsell Jennings, she was born in San Francisco, raised in New York and Fairfield, Connecticut, attended Miss Porter's School, and married a New York merchant, Hugh D. Auchincloss (1858-1913), in 1891. The couple raised their son and two daughters in New York and Newport, Rhode Island. Some years after her husband's death, Emma Auchincloss built a home, Dormy House on Sasco Hill Road in Fairfield, Connecticut, and died there at the age of 80.

Annie Burr Jennings Papers

Annie Burr Jennings (1855-1939) was an aunt of Annie Lewis, and the eldest of the five children of Oliver Burr Jennings and Esther Judson Goodsell Jennings. Born in San Francisco and raised in Fairfield, Connecticut, she attended Fairfield Academy and Miss Porter's School. Annie Jennings never married, and devoted her life to family, collecting, and history, with a particular interest in eighteenth-century American history. She served for many years as Vice Regent for Connecticut in the Mount Vernon Ladies' Association of the Union, a position to which she was nominated by her friend William Howard Taft. She filled her two homes in New York City and in Fairfield with her collections of prints, books, china, and silver; the latter residence, called "Sunnie-Holme," was noted for its extensive gardens which were open to the public. Jennings was a renowned philanthropist in both New York and Connecticut, and died at Sunnie-Holme at the age of 83.

Series IV: Financial Records, 1926–1959*8.13 linear feet (21 boxes)*

The series holds both Annie Lewis's checking account records and those of her investments managed by her brother Hugh D. Auchincloss and members of his firm Auchincloss, Parker & Redpath. The bulk of the series is comprised of check registers from the two New York banks and one Hartford bank she patronized from the 1920s until her death. Also here are the registers from the Lewises' years living in Washington, D.C. When available, cancelled checks were retained to fill some gaps where check registers could not be found when the papers were processed in 2017-2018.

Series IV is organized into two subseries: Bank Accounts, and Investment Accounts.

Bank Accounts

Annie Lewis's check registers document her life and lifestyle; checks were recorded by Lewis or her assistant Gertrude Manly, and show expenses for taxes, dogs, automobiles, and staff; payment of dues and house tabs in private clubs in New York, Connecticut, and Rhode Island; and contributions to charities in those states. Many of the checks were written for purchases in shops such as Hartford's G. Fox, and New York's Henri Bendel, Bonwit Teller, Hammacher Schlemmer, and Steuben Glass, as well as for goods and services received from the Hartford decorators Maritje Jacobus and Henry Saling, and furniture maker Nathan Margolis, and the decorator Elizabeth Draper in New York. Another regular expense was photography, and many checks were written to Pavelle Laboratories for developing film and printing the pictures taken by Annie Lewis that appear throughout the Lewises' photograph collection (LWL MSS 22).

Series V: American Red Cross Records, 1941–1946*0.63 linear feet (2 boxes)*

The Lewises moved to Washington, DC, in the fall of 1941 when Wilmarth Lewis accepted an appointment as chief of the Information Division in the Office of Strategic Services. Upon arrival, Annie Lewis offered her services to the National Headquarters of the American Red Cross. She held two positions with the organization: assistant director of Volunteer Special Services (1941-1944) and, once she returned to Farmington in 1943, as a Volunteer Field Representative for Camp and Hospital Service, (1944-1946).

The series primarily contains records from Annie Lewis's service in Connecticut (1944-1946), and includes copies of memos and reports sent from and to the North Atlantic Office in New York. Also here are reports she wrote after her visits to cities and towns around the state, as well as correspondence about programs and events being organized for veterans.

The contents of the files were not arranged; the papers were rehoused in 2018 and titles from the original files were repurposed for this finding aid.

Series V is organized into three subseries: Correspondence, Connecticut Camp and Hospital Committee, and Other Papers.
