Preferred Citation

Ronald H. Fishbein Collection on the Nathan Smith Family. Historical Library, Harvey Cushing / John Hay Whitney Medical Library, Yale University.

Biographical / Historical

A surgeon and associate professor emeritus of general surgery at the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine, Ronald H. Fishbein graduated from the Yale School of Medicine in 1957. His publications include "Nathan Smith and the Johns Hopkins Connection" published in the Maryland Medical Journal in 1989. He passed away on January 2, 2015.

Scope and Contents

The collection contains materials collected by Ronald H. Fishbein (1931-2015) related to physician Nathan Smith (1762-1829) and members of his family, notably those involved in the field of medicine. Nathan Smith was a well-known New England surgeon, teacher, and author who founded Dartmouth Medical School and co-founded the University of Vermont College of Medicine, the medical school at Bowdoin College, and the Yale School of Medicine. Collection materials include manuscripts of Nathan Smith family histories; newspaper clippings; photographs; Fishbein's correspondence with Nathan Smith authors and biographers Oliver S. Hayward and Constance Putnam; and a typescript of the article "Nathan Smith and the Johns Hopkins Connection" written by Fishbein.

Arrangement

The collection is arranged in one series.

Collection Contents

Smith, Emily A., "Dr. Nathan Smith" manuscript

Contains manuscript titled "Dr. Nathan Smith. The Story of the remarkable life and work of Nathan Smith, B.M., M.D. with his letters -- and a brief sketch of the life and professional work of his Son Dr. Nathan Ryno Smith and of his grandson Dr. Alan Penniman Smith. Pioneers from the dark ages to the dawn of the splendid era of modern medicine and surgery, 1787 to 1895." Also includes photographs and an original letter on Alan Penniman Smith. Dr. Fishbein believed these are materials that Emily Smith did not publish in her book Life and Letters of Nathan Smith. Given to Dr. Fishbein by the Medical and Chirurgical Faculty of Maryland.
