Processing Information

Collections are processed to a variety of levels, depending on the work necessary to make them usable, their perceived research value, the availability of staff, competing priorities, and whether or not further accruals are expected. The library attempts to provide a basic level of preservation and access for all collections, and does more extensive processing of higher priority collections as time and resources permit. Information included in the Description of Papers note and Collection Contents section is drawn from information supplied with the collection and from an initial survey of the contents. Folder titles appearing in the contents list below are often based on those provided by the creator or previous custodian. Titles have not been verified against the contents of the folders in all cases. Otherwise, folder titles are supplied by staff during initial processing. This finding aid may be updated periodically to account for new acquisitions to the collection and/or revisions in arrangement and description.

Alan Hollinghurst (1954-)

Alan Hollinghurst is an English novelist, poet, short story writer, and translator. His works often chronicle gay life in Great Britain and include The Line of Beauty, winner of the 2004 Booker Prize. Hollinghurst was born on May 26, 1954, in Stroud, Gloucestershire, to James and Elizabeth Hollinghurst and attended Magdalene College, Oxford, receiving a B.A. in English in 1975 and a Master of Letters in 1979. As an undergraduate, he won the Newdigate Prize for poetry in 1974. Hollinghurst received the 1989 Somerset Maugham Award for The Swimming Pool Library (1988) and the 1994 James Tait Black Memorial Prize for The Folding Star. Other notable works are The Spell (1988) and The Stranger's Child (2011), which was longlisted for the Booker Prize. In 2011, Hollinghurst received the Bill Whitehead Award.

Scope and Contents

The collection contains correspondence, writings, printed material, and electronic media created or collected by English novelist, editor, and translator Alan Hollinghurst. Drafts of Hollinghurst's first four novels, which chronicle gay life in Great Britain, form the bulk of the collection. Also included are drafts of other short writings and unpublished works, a translation of Jean Racine's Bajazet, and screenplay adaptations of The Swimming Pool Library and The Line of Beauty.
