Processing Information

Collections are processed to a variety of levels, depending on the work necessary to make them usable, their perceived research value, the availability of staff, competing priorities, and whether or not further accruals are expected. The library attempts to provide a basic level of preservation and access for all collections, and does more extensive processing of higher priority collections as time and resources permit.

Information included in the Description of Papers note and Collection Contents section is drawn from information supplied with the collection and from an initial survey of the contents. Folder titles appearing in the contents list below are often based on those provided by the creator or previous custodian. Otherwise, folder titles are supplied by staff during initial processing.

This finding aid may be updated periodically to account for new acquisitions to the collection and/or revisions in arrangement and description.

Koster, R. M. (1934-)

Richard Morton Koster, an American author, journalist, and educator, was born on March 1, 1934 in Brooklyn, New York. In the late 1950s, he graduated from Yale University with a degree in English. Koster is best known for the Tinieblas Trilogy: The Prince (1972), a finalist for the 1973 National Book Award in Fiction; The Dissertation (1975); and Mandragon (1979). Other notable works include Carmichael's Dog (1992), The Glass Mountain (2001), and In the Time of the Tyrants: Panama: 1968-1990 (1991), a history of the military rule of Panama written with journalist Guillermo Sánchez Borbón. Koster moved to Panama in 1957. He taught English at the Panama Canal campus of Florida State University from 1964 to 2001 and has contributed articles to publications including Newsweek and The New York Times. Koster was also involved in American politics, serving on the Democratic National Committee from 1967 to 1996 and authoring presidential debate copy for Senator John Kerry in 2004.
