Daisy Aldan (1923-2001)

Daisy Aldan, American poet, editor, educator, translator, and filmmaker.

Aldan was born in 1923 in New York City to designer Louis Aldan and actress Esther Edelheit Aldan. She was a child actor on the CBS radio program, Let's Pretend, and was first published in the pages of Poetry at age twelve. Aldan stayed in New York City, where she received a Bachelor of Arts from Hunter College in 1943, a Master of Arts from Brooklyn College in 1948, and took graduate coursework at New York University. Her publications included her first chapbook of poems (1946), The Destruction of Cathedrals and Other Poems (1963) and Seven: Seven (Poems and Photographs) (1965) and several books of experimental poetry published in the 1970s. In 1979, with the assistance of a National Endowment for the Arts grant, she published the novella, A Golden Story.

Aldan co-founded, with Richard Miller, the Tiber Press in 1953 and published and edited Folder Magazine of Literature and Art (1953 to 1959), an influential magazine featuring the poetry of New York School poets and the art of many notable artists. In 1959, she published the anthology A New Folder: Americans: Poems and Drawings. Aldan also co-edited, with Anaïs Nin, the poetry magazine Two Cities (1961 to 1962).

Throughout her career, Aldan contributed to many anthologies and literature magazines. She was a respected translator and published translations of works by Stéphane Mallarmé, Anaïs Nin, Albert Steffen, and Rudolf Steiner. In 1955 she made the 8mm color film, Once Upon an El, that featured several notable artists, writers, and composers protesting the demolition of New York City's Third Avenue elevated railway. For thirty-five years, Aldan taught at the School of Industrial Art (presently the High School of Art and Design) in New York City, where her students included Gerard Malanga, Jackie Curtis, Art Spiegelman, Tony Bennett, Calvin Klein, and Harvey Fierstein. Her former students cite her as a major influence in their identity and evolution as artists. Aldan died in New York City in 2001.

I still feel bad about the books, and one of the reasons I haven't pursued Clara further is that I don't know her address out of town where she moved some time ago. One of these days, I will try to find out if Jason has a studio in New York and as soon as I do, I'll let you know. I also feel terrible that you expected to hear from me and didn't. When you get to know me better, you will see that thoughtlessness of that kind is not part of my nature. First, you went to California, then I went off on an extended trip to Europe, Greece, Africa, and so on. Then, I was so involved in all kinds of things...and so it went. Forgive me. As for the thesis, I hope to complete it this year. In any case, I think we ought to know each other better since we are both involved in similar projects and interests. Of course, you may have my mailing list - I have an excellent one now. I cannot, however, let it out of my hands at this moment. But you may feel free to come up here at any time and copy it, if you wish. Unless you have another idea. Perhaps you can spend a few hours one day soon. Simply come, make yourself at home and copy. I know how tedious it is. I have wasted and wasted hours on such ugly details...but how well you must understand all the little things involved in running one's own press. Thanks for offering yours. One of these days, I hope I may come and copy it. Yes, I purchased a copy of your new HOUSE OF INCEST as soon as it came out. I met Val Telberg at Nell "laine's party (I had known him before), and he told me about it. The next day I picked it up at the Eighth Street Book Store. inevitable), you will tell me about purchasing your other books. I am enclosing a check for sbuscription to TWO CITIES at 40 percent discount. Under separate cover I am sending you copies of FOLDER and the COUP DE DES. I hope you enjoy them. I am no longer publishing the magazine as a magazine, but plan to publish only books. Therefore the new book of American poems and drawings will be called A NEW FOLDER. The manuscript is complete so at this moment it would be unwise to send the poems you receive to me. If YOU have any poetry of your own, however, I'd like to include you. Perhaps a prose poem. Let me know soon, for it means making room for it. I have these extra few days for I am waiting for the introduction which Wallace Fowlie is doing. I look forward to hearing from you. At any rate, come to tea or some such thing. Do let me know when you are free to do so. I remember our meeting with great pleasure. Cordially, Daisy Aldan
