Henry Burt Wright Papers (RG 40), Special Collections, Yale Divinity Library.

Biographical / Historical

Date	Event
1877 Jan 29	○ Born in New Haven, son of Henry Parks and Martha Burt Wright. H. P. Wright was Dean of Yale College from 1884 to 1909. HBW studied at home until entering the New Haven high school; summers were spent in Oakham, Mass.
1894-1898	○ B.A., Yale. He was a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon and the Skull and Bones society and was president of the Christian Association during his senior year.
1898-1903	○ Ph.D., Yale. While pursuing his graduate studies, Wright served as General Secretary of the Yale Y.M.C.A. from 1898 to 1901 and as Graduate Secretary from 1901 to 1903.
1901	○ Co-editor of Two Centuries of Christian Activity at Yale .
1903-1923	○ Throughout his teaching career, Wright continued to aid the work of the Yale and New Haven Y.M.C.A.'s by leading Bible study groups and serving as an advisor. He was also instrumental in the establishment of the Yale Hope Mission. Wright was active in the leadership of various student conferences and in evangelistic campaigns. He was a leading force in the formation of the Young Men's Club of Oakham, Mass. and was involved in Oakham community affairs. He was also a trustee of the Yale-in-China Association.
1903-1906	○ Tutor in Greek and Latin, Yale
1906-1907	○ Instructor in Greek and Latin
1907-1911	○ Assistant Professor, Roman History and Latin Literature
1907 Jul 24	○ Married Josephine L. Hayward. The couple was childless but opened their home to various young people whom they considered as their family.
1907-1908, 1911	○ Study in Europe
1911-1914	○ Assistant Professor, History department
1912	○ Seriously ill with a respiratory ailment
1914-1923	○ Stephen Merrell Clement Professor of Christian Methods, Yale Divinity School. Courses taught by Wright included "Personal Evangelism", "Rural Sociology", "Leadership of Voluntary Bible-study Groups" and "Religious Aspects of Student Problems". He was the leader in the establishment of a department at Yale for the training of Y.M.C.A. secretaries.
1917 May-Jul	○ Chief of Y.M.C.A. religious work at First Reserve Officers' Training Camp, Plattsburgh, N.Y.
1917 summer	○ Taught at the Y.M.C.A. College, Springfield, Mass.

Date	Event

1922	○ Editor of the Centennial Catalogue of Yale Divinity School
1923 Dec 27	○ Died in Oakham, Mass.

Scope and Contents

These papers provide a thorough picture of Wright's life and work and are particularly useful for their documentation of his involvement in religious activity-at Yale from 1894 to 1923 and in Y.M.C.A. work during the first World War.

Series I, Correspondence, dates from 1901 to 1925 and is divided into Family Correspondence and General Correspondence. Letters from his wife, sister and parents during times of separation give insight into the rich family life which was so important to Wright. Letters in the General Correspondence section reveal the various facets of Wright's career--his interests in Ancient History, Yale history, religious activity at Yale, Y.M.C.A. work, mission work and the community affairs and baseball team of Oakham, Mass. Wright was a disciplined man who took a personal interest in the lives of many people. His character is reflected in the substance and detail of his correspondence. Notable correspondents include John R. Mott, Robert P. Wilder, David R. Porter, Kenneth S. Latourette, Anson Phelps Stokes, E. Hershey Sneath, Charles R. Brown, George Sherwood Eddy and Robert E. Speer.

Series II consists of a topically arranged file which documents Wright's involvements and interests. Included in the file are class notes taken by Wright, notes for lectures, talks and sermons, drafts of unpublished writings, schedules, printed material and student papers. The topics range from "Studies in the Life of Christ" to "Fraternalities and Secret Societies" to "Yale: School of Religion, Publicity Committee" to "Y.M.C.A.: Commission on Advance Program Among Students". This file provides valuable insight into the issues and concerns of religious work among college students during the first quarter of the 20th century. It is particularly useful in documenting the course of Christian activity at Yale and the development of the Yale School of Religion. Another large group of material documents the role played by the Y.M.C.A. during World War I.

Series III, Published Writings, consists of one box of material arranged alphabetically by title. The writings date from 1909 to 1921 and reflect Wright's interests in student religious work, Y.M.C.A. war work and Ancient History.

Series IV, Personal Items and Memorabilia is divided into five sections:

- Biographical Material
- Financial material related to Wright's book, Two Centuries of Christian Activity at Yale
- Material related to Josephine H. Wright
- Photographs
- Miscellaneous material

Arrangement

- I. Correspondence, 1901-1925
- II. Subject File
- III. Published Writings, 1909-1924, n.d.
- IV. Personal Items and Memorabilia, 1903-1928., n.d.
- V. Addendum

Series V: Addendum

The first section of this addendum is a collection of letters from Yale graduates on the subject of religious life at Yale, ca. 1832-1883. These letters were sent to Wright in connection with his work on Two Centuries of Christian Activity at Yale 1701-1901 (New York, 1901). Also included are miscellaneous notes, advertising circulars and other papers related to the book. The correspondents are listed with their dates of birth and death.

The second section is a collection of note cards and postcards related to Europe and European history, "made and used for Yale history courses".
