Scope and Contents

The James Boyer collection consists of photostatic copies of letters (1779-1784) written to James Boyer during the Revolutionary War. James Boyer served in an artillery component under Ebenezer Stevens; he also served in a commissary office until the end of the war. Correspondents include Peter Boyer, his brother, a member of the Committee of Correspondence, Safety, and Inspection in Boston, Samuel Hodgdon (1745-1824), Richard Frothingham (1748-1819), and Ebenezer Stevens (1713-1798). Also included in this collection are photostatic copies of miscellaneous documents and papers relating to the Revolution which, in 1929, were described by the donor, Maj. Preston Brown, as being "found in the Boston Post Office."
