Biographical / Historical

Mina Kirstein Curtiss was born on October 13, 1896, in Boston, Massachusetts. She graduated from Smith College in 1918, received a M.A. in English from Columbia University in 1920, and returned to Smith, where she was an associate professor until 1934. She was a research assistant for the Mercury Theater from 1935 to 1938, and she worked for the Office of War Information during World War II. She taught at Smith from 1940 to 1941. In 1942, Curtiss wrote and produced a local radio program in Des Moines, Iowa, in which she featured Iowa soldiers' letters home, and interviews with their families. The response inspired her to expand the project and incorporate letters of servicemen from all over the country, and in 1944 she published an anthology of enlisted men's Letters Home. During the next decades, Curtiss spent much time in France, and later Russia. She was the author of many publications, and received the Legion of Honor from the French government for her books on Marcel Proust and Georges Bizet. She married Henry ("Harry") Tomlinson Curtiss on June 1, 1926. Curtiss died on November 1, 1985.

Accession 1987-M-0010: Additional Material, 1910-1928

This addition to the Mina Curtiss Collection consists of journals, letters, and photographs belonging to her husband, Henry T. Curtiss. Items include a diary kept by Curtiss during a 1910 trip to Europe with Yale classmates and fellow Scroll and Key Society members S. Merrell Clement, Jr., J. Curtis Platt, Reginald Roome, and Earl T. Williams. The diary describes the group's travels on the S. S. Arabic to the British Isles, Holland, Germany, Venice, Scutari and Dalmatia. There is also a leather binder of photographs and letters circulated annually among Scroll and Key Society members. The inside cover contains a photographic negative of Henry Curtiss and a friend on horseback. The majority of the letters, from 1920 to 1923, are arranged first by author and then by date. Curtiss's own letters are near the end of this group, and a later photograph of him outside his Ashfield home is found after his entries. The final group of letters, from 1927 to 1928, includes reminiscences about Curtiss after his death. Related to these two volumes is the book Diary of a Trip Abroad in the Summer of 1910, by Earl Trumbull Williams. Published after Williams' early death, this book serves as a companion volume to Henry Curtiss's account of the trip. There are also eight large photographs of Curtiss alone and with friends, circa 1910. Five of the photos are card-mounted and numbered, and depict various scenes of Curtiss and classmates at the beach, at school, in Europe, and on a ship. The other three photos have been captioned, presumably by Mina Curtiss, and depict a "Keys wedding"; Curtiss with his dogs outside his Ashfield home; and Curtiss with Bobby Jones, Jack Davidson, and Fred Kennedy.
