Biographical / Historical

Henry Wick Chambers

Statistician, New York Central & Hudson River Railroad Company, 3631 Grand Central Terminal, New York City

Residence, 1057 Esplanade, Pelham Manor, N. Y.

Henry spent the first two years after graduation at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and later he became connected with two railroad companies-first, the New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad, and, more recently, the New York Central.

Chambers is a member of the Little Red Church (Huguenot Memorial). He is a Republican "and more so since the eight-hour law and boudoir activities." He belongs to the Sons of the American Revolution, the Yale Club of New York, and the University Club, and is a governor of the Pelham Country Club. In May 1917, he was elected secretary of the Yale Alumni Association of Westchester County.

He was married November 9, 1904, in Batavia, New York, to Constance, daughter of Frank Bolles and Caroline (Dolbeer) Redfield. They have a son and a daughter: Henry Wick, Jr., born May 14, 1908; and Constance, born May 8, 1911.

From History of the Class of Eighteen Hundred Ninety-Nine. Yale College. Vol IV. Compiled by Murray W. Dodge. Concord, New Hampshire: The Rumford Press, 1919.

Scope and Contents

The Henry Wick Chambers (1874-1965) Papers consist of composition books, examinations, miscellaneous, printed lecture notes, study digest, study guides and term papers. The papers are arranged in alphabetical order by type of material and cover both grammar school and Yale University courses (from 1895-1899). Topics of the the term papers for European history are "The Popular Feeling Against England" and "The Relation of Railroads to Transportation." After graduating from Yale in 1899, Mr. Chambers was employed as a statistician for the New York, Chicago and Saint Louis Railroad and the New York Central Railroad.

The collection was given to Yale University by Mr. Henry Wick Chambers, Jr., in 1966.
