CALL NUMBER: Ms Coll 34

CREATOR: Lindskog, Gustaf Elmer, 1903-2002

TITLE: Gustaf E. Lindskog Papers

DATES: 1929-1987

PHYSICAL DESCRIPTION: 2.5 linear feet (5 boxes)

LANGUAGE: English

SUMMARY: Thoracic surgeon Gustaf Lindskog was a member of the Department of Surgery from 1933 until his retirement in 1971. He chaired the department from 1948 to 1966. The collection consists primarily of his reports as head of the Thoracic Surgery Service of New Haven Hospital, talks including history of surgery lectures given at Yale, medical illustrations, and reprints. The restricted boxes contain Lindskog's notes on his surgical operations on named patients.

Administrative Information

Immediate Source of Acquisition

Gift of Carl Lindskog, 2011. Additional materials belonging to Lindskog, especially his history of surgery lectures, were donated earlier and added to the collection in 2015.

Custodial History

These materials were owned by Gustaf E. Lindskog.

Conditions Governing Access

Part of this collection is open for research.

Descriptions of operations and correspondence with or about named patients are restricted.

Conditions Governing Use

Reports in Lindskog's official capacity as professor of surgery and surgeon are the property of Yale University. Yale does not own copyright to other materials.

Preferred Citation

Biographical / Historical

Gustaf E. Lindskog, thoracic surgeon at Yale, was born in Boston in 1903. He graduated from the Massachusetts Agricultural College (now University of Massachusetts) in 1923, and received his M.D. from Harvard Medical School in 1928. He interned at Lakeside Hospital in Cleveland. From 1929 to 1932, he was a resident in surgery at Yale. The following year he was a National Research Council Fellow at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston. In 1933, he returned to Yale as instructor of surgery and rose through the ranks to become the William Carmalt Professor of Surgery in 1948. Lindskog chaired the department from 1948 to 1966. In 1971 he retired but remained active in the Yale community. During World War II, he served for four years as a commander in the Navy Medical Corps and was stationed part of the time at the Philadelphia Naval Yard. In 1943, he worked with Louis S. Goodman and Alfred Gilman on the development of chemotherapy at Yale. They used nitrogen mustard in the treatment of a patient with lymphosarcoma. Lindskog was widely recognized for his contributions to thoracic surgery. He pioneered in the surgical resection of chronic pulmonary abscess. In addition to his many research articles, he was co-author with Averill Liebow and William Glenn on three editions of a major textbook of thoracic surgery, Thoracic and Cardiovascular Surgery with Related Pathology (1953, 1962, 1975). He died at the age of 99 in 2002.

Scope and Contents

The collection contains reports of the Thoracic Service at Yale, 1938-1946; statistics of various other surgical operations at Yale; lists of surgical residents; typescripts of lectures before various groups; medical illustrations by Armin Hemberger and others, and photographic illustrations from some of his papers; manuscripts of possibly unpublished papers; other miscellany; and reprints of Lindskog's articles. The restricted boxes contain Lindskog's descriptions of his surgical operations on named patients.

Arrangement

Organized in seven series: 1. Yale University School of Medicine Department of Surgery. 2. Lectures before various groups. 3. Medical drawings and photographs for some of Lindskog's publications. 4. Miscellany. 5. Reprints of Lindskog's papers. 6. Notes on surgical operations (restricted). 7. Lindskog's history of surgery lectures at Yale.

Series VII: Lindskog's History of Surgery Annual Lectures, 1957-1987

These are texts of Gustaf Lindskog's annual or nearly-annual History of Surgery lectures. The Department of Surgery, sometimes joined by the Department of History of Science and Medicine, for many years sponsored a series of five history of surgery lectures held weekly in February and March. Usually they took place in the Beaumont Room or the Historical Library. The last in the series was the invited Samuel Clark Harvey Lecture named after a previous chairman of the Department of Surgery who retired in 1948. Most of these folders were found later and added to the Lindskog Papers as another series. Titles were transcribed from previous folders kept by Lindskog. Several of the lectures were published. See Lindskog's reprints in Box 2. See also other Lindskog presentations in Box 1.

b. 5, f. 1	"The History of Pulmonary Resection," Samuel Clark Harvey Lecture	1957 February 4
b. 5, f. 2	"Diagnostic Procedures," History of Surgery Course
b. 5, f. 3	"Boerhaave at Leyden: The Renaissance of Clinical Teaching," presented in the Historical Library	1959 February 2
b. 5, f. 4	"History of Pulmonary Abscess and its Treatments in the 19th Century," History of Surgery Lecture	[1961]
b. 5, f. 5	"Halsted and Modern American Surgery," History of Surgery Lecture	1962 January 22
b. 5, f. 6	"Diaphragm and Diaphragmatic Hernia," History of Surgery Lecture	1965 February 1
b. 5, f. 7	"Surgery of the Sternum and Mediastinum," History of Surgery Lecture	1966 February 21
b. 5, f. 8	"Carolus Linnaeus," History of Surgery Lecture	1967
b. 5, f. 9	"American Physician-Botanists of the 19th Century"	1968 February 5
b. 5, f. 10	"The Life and Times of Guillaume Dupuytren," History of Surgery Lecture Folder contains a later version of the lecture intended for publication, titled "Guillaume Dupuytren: A Bicentennial Memoire," and correspondence with Arthur Baue, Chairman, Department of Surgery, and Martin C. Carey, Harvard Medical School, 1977.	1969 February 3
b. 5, f. 11	"Ferdinand Sauerbruch and His Contributions to Thoracic Surgery," History of Surgery Lecture	1970
b. 5, f. 13	"Remembrances of Former Things--Foreign Bodies," History of Surgery Lecture Includes a program listing a series of five lectures sponsored by the Department of Surgery and the Department of the History of Science and Medicine. Lindskog's was the first lecture to be presented on January 31, 1972. On successive weeks, lectures were to be presented by Ulrich H. Weill, M.D., Sherwin B. Nuland, M.D., H.C. Stansel, Jr., M.D., and finally the Samuel Clark Harvey Lecture to be given by George Rosen, M.D.	1972 January 31
b. 5, f. 14	"The Story of Tracheoesophageal Fistula," History of Surgery Lecture This lecture is in part autobiographical.	1973 February 5
b. 5, f. 15	"Oliver Wendell Holmes," History of Surgery Lecture Includes slides, program for the series of history of surgery lectures in 1974, and published version of the lecture.	1974 February 4

b. 5, f. 16	"History of Diaphragmatic Hernia," exhibit by Lindskog in the Cushing Rotunda of Yale Medical Library Includes typescript of a paper, "Diaphragmatic Hernia -- Historical Aspects" (unpublished?).	1976
