Samuel Andrew Law (1771-1845)

Samuel A. Law was born in Cheshire, Connecticut in 1771, the son of William Law and Mary Hotchkiss Law. He graduated from Yale College in 1792, attended the Litchfield Law School in 1793, and was admitted to the bar in 1795. In the following year, he founded a school which later became part of an Episcopal Academy of Cheshire. In 1797 he moved to Delaware County, New York, where he began a law practice and remained for the rest of his life.

Law married Sarah Sherman, and they had at least four sons: Jonathan Albion Law, Samuel A. Law, Stephen Dodd Law, and William Lyon Law. He died in Meredith, New York in 1845.

Scope and Contents

The Law Family Papers document aspects of the personal and professional life of Yale graduate and lawyer Samuel A. Law (1771-1845). Contents include family correspondence between Law and his brother, William Law, Jr.; his son Stephen Dodd Law; and other members of the Law family; letters to Law from others, including Timothy Brainerd and Jeremiah Day; and financial records, particularly records of the final estates and debts of several Law family members.

Arrangement

Arranged in one series: Series I. Correspondence and Other Papers, 1806-1857.
