Processing Information

Former call numbers: Za Grey; Uncat MSS 319; Uncat MSS 437; Uncat MSS 909.

Collections are processed to a variety of levels, depending on the work necessary to make them usable, their perceived research value, the availability of staff, competing priorities, and whether or not further accruals are expected. The library attempts to provide a basic level of preservation and access for all collections, and does more extensive processing of higher priority collections as time and resources permit. Folder titles and descriptions appearing in the contents list below are based on those provided by previous custodians or repurposed from previous descriptions by the library.

This finding aid may be updated periodically to account for new acquisitions to the collection and/or revisions in arrangement and description.

Zane Grey (1872-1939)

Zane Grey, writer of popular adventure stories about the American West, was born Pearl Zane Gray in Zanesville, Ohio, in 1872, to Lewis M. Gray, a dentist, and Josephine Zane Gray. Changing his name to Zane Grey in early adulthood, he trained in dentistry and had a practice in New York City before turning to writing full time. Grey's prolific output included best-selling novels, many of which were made into equally successful Hollywood films. Grey lived the adventurous life he wrote about, spending months of each year camping in the Arizona desert or fishing off Tahiti and Australia.

Scope and Contents

The collection contains miscellaneous writings and correspondence of American writer Zane Grey.
