Associated Materials

The University of Minnesota Immigration History Research Center has a significant collection of the papers of George and Tatiana Grebenstchikoff.

George Grebenstchikoff, 1882-1964

George Grebenstchikoff (in Russian Georgii Dmitrievich Grebenshchikov) was born May 6 (April 24 Old Style) 1883 in the Tomsk Oblast of Russia. In 1917 he married Tatiana Denisovna Stadnik, whom he met when she acted in a play he wrote. He published segments of his serialized novel Churaevy before emigrating to Paris (1920) and then the United States (1924). In 1925 he and Ilia Tolstoi founded the Churaevka artists' colony in Southbury, Connecticut, where Grebenstchikoff also directed the Alatas publishing house. The Grebenstchikoffs later moved to Florida, where George Grebenstchikoff taught creative writing and Russian literature at Florida Southern College from 1941 to 1952.

In addition to Churaevy, Grebenstchikoff's principal writings include the novel The Turbulent Giant (1940) and Egorkina zhizn' (published posthumously in 1966), an autobiographical work.

Alyce Batchelder befriended George and Tatiana Grebenstchikoff in Lakeland, Florida and became the literary executor for the George Grebenstchikoff estate in 1965.

Scope and Contents

The papers in this collection document the work of Alyce Batchelder as well as the correspondence and writings of George Grebenstchikoff. Alyce Batchelder's correspondence documents her work as literary executor for the George Grebenstchikoff estate after Grebenshchikoff's death. George Grebenstchikoff's papers document a variety of personal and professional domains, including his activity to honor the Russian writer Ivan Bunin and his account of a lawsuit brought against him by Harold Hecht. The collection also contains a few early letters to George Grebenstchikoff's wife Tatiana that date from the years before her emigration to the United States.

Arrangement

The collection is organized into four Series: Correspondence, Writings, Other Papers, and Personal Effects.

Collection Contents

Series I: Correspondence, 1913-1970

0.83 linear feet (2 boxes)

Alyce Batchelder's correspondence documents her activities as literary executor for George Grebenstchikoff's estate and includes several folders of letters to and from members of the Grebenstchikoff family in Russia.

George Grebenstchikoff's correspondence is both personal and professional, addressing literary and religious topics as well as some of his legal troubles. Of particular interest are letters to and from Pearl Buck, chiefly relating to the writer Ivan Bunin.

Tatiana Grebenstchikoff's early correspondence documents her relationship with her first husband and his family in the years before she married Grebenstchikoff and emigrated.

Series I is organized into three subseries: Alyce Batchelder, George Grebenstchikoff and Tatiana Grebenstchikoff. Each subseries is arranged alphabetically. General Correspondence A-Z is filed at the end of the George Grebenstchikoff subseries.
